Positive characteristics or strengths of the course/instructor

Professor Aswad, was a very nice caring person, and made sure all students understood the material that was being given. Even though the class was about an hour she tried so hard to squeeze much information in as possible.

Professor Noor was amazing at her job. She always spoke with purpose and she really invested in her students learning and made sure we understood the material before moving on. I was very impressed and respected her very much.

She really helped me with the assignments. She brainstormed with me, and the other students about our research project. Also she was very energetic which made class more interesting.

You are such a great lab instructor and I know you'll make a fabulous instructor one day!

Professor Aswad was one of the best teachers I have ever had. I could tell she cared very much about her work and made sure we all understood her material. I wish I could take her again!

Criticisms concerning the course/instructor

Only issue with this course, it is only one hour.

I do not have any criticisms for Professor Aswad.

Additional comments and suggestions

N/A I had a wonderful semester with her.

I would recommend her to all my peers when picking out professors!
